

It's time for the FCC to get the hell out of my life.
If broadcasters are threatened by satellite radio, let them provide better products.

As for the FCC, leave me and my choices alone. If I don't want to listen to something, I'll censor it myself with my right hand and the radio dial.